

Welcome... Thank you for your interest in working with Leon Loard Commissioned Portraits (LLCP). We consider it a privilege to assist and guide you in your search for the perfect portrait artist. Our goal for over the past half century continues today - to educate and guide our clients with knowledge and integrity. Our priority is to ensure that your investment in a portrait is simple, convenient and most importantly, a perfect match to your individual taste and budget.

For over 50 years, we have developed an excellent reputation for client satisfaction and we have thousands of satisfied clients. LLCP represents only portrait artists who paint original portraits in oil. This special distinction signifies that LLCP is an oil portrait specialist in the broad field of portrait mediums. Having a portrait painted in oil is the epitome of portraiture. The group of artists we represent is intentionally small in contrast to other agencies, allowing us to more personally and effectively represent these illustrious painters and better present them to you.

In this brief brochure, you will view portraits by some of the nation's finest portrait painters. There are many other beautiful samples of these artists' portraits we would like to share with you. We gladly extend an invitation for you to view more samples and meet with one of our full-time Leon Loard Commissioned Portraits Artist Representatives in your home or office with no obligation or expense. You will never pay more (and sometimes you may even pay less!) by taking advantage of the vast services LLCP has to offer than if you had dealt directly with the portrait artist.

We are thankful for our rich history of serving clients in the southeast and many other states across our country. Our commitment to customer satisfaction is unequalled. We look forward to serving you in the same fashion. Please call us today at 800-270-9017.

Sincerely,

Family Portraits

Family Portraits Family Portraiture is an artful expression of love and pride in one's family. Whether it is a bust of a revered ancestor or a large group of brothers and sisters, a family portrait is an ageless tradition that continues to grow in meaning and importance.

Leon Loard Commissioned Portrait's full-time artist representative knowledgeably guides you in making the right decisions for your family portrait. Whether to focus on a single subject or a group portrait, appropriate ages for family portraiture, and recommendations on clothing, style and setting are just a few issues about which your LLCP artist representative will offer guidance.

Most importantly, your LLCP artist representative will then help you in selecting the artist whose work best suits your taste - making certain that your vision for a timeless family portrait is achieved with perfection and enjoyed through many generations. Please call today at 1-800-270-9017 to schedule an appointment and request that a personalized portrait artist(s) portfolio be mailed to you.

Corporate Portraits

Corporate Portraits There is no more suitable way to display an institution's high regard for its leaders than to document their likenesses in oil on canvas. Portraiture has long served as an effective means of recording history in government, corporations, universities, churches and institutions.

Today, businesses of all sizes continue to turn to corporate portraits as a means of recording history. Portraits of departing presidents or directors have been given as treasured gifts to the family to show a company's appreciation for an individual's years of service, or placed on honored walls in corporate conference rooms and libraries for a permanent recognition.

Keeping in mind the time demands placed on the company's executive, LLCP is careful to make all the necessary arrangements in the most time efficient and convenient manner. Many portrait painters paint portraits using live sessions while others use images taken during the portrait sitting, which allows the executive to maximize his or her time. We will assist you in your search for a portrait artist. To schedule an appointment please call today at 1-800-270-9017 and a personalized portrait artist portfolio will be mailed to you.
